APP goes digital with the launch of ArunPol mobile app and e- Vigilance portal

ITANAGAR, June 15:
Arunachal Pradesh Police (APP) goes digital with ArunPol mobile app and e-Vigilance portal launched here this morning in a simple ceremony by Chief Minister Pema Khandu in presence of Deputy Chief Minister Chowna Mein, Home Minister Bamang Felix and top officials of state police, Home and Vigilancedepartments.

Congratulating the Home, Police and Vigilance departments on the novel initiatives, Khandu said that the launch of ArunPol and e-Vigilance is a major jump towards e-governance in the state.

"We are one of the best performing states in the country when it comes to e-governance. The launch today has added another feather to our cap," he said.

Khandu believed that the ArunPol mobile app will be of immense help to minimize the trouble taken by citizens to reach out to police stations to avail services.

The app is designed to provide online services like lodging of Lost Report, Police Clearance Certificate, Missing Reports, Servant Verification, Tenant Verification, Complaints of women and children, Complaints against Police, Rules and Laws, vital contact numbers, helpline numbers, vehicle towing details, etc. The main objective is to reduce the unproductive manhours spent by both citizen and police.

Further, a citizen can lodge a complaint and provide information and still can keep their identity secret-through the app.

"I am told that the department has identified 16 services to be provided on the app. I suggest that senior officers can brainstorm over it and identify all possible citizen centric services that can be incorporated in the app in future," Khandu said.

The e-Vigilance portal, to begin with, will issue e-Vigilance Clearance Certificate to government employees, especially required for promotions, etc.

Khandu observed that issue of vigilance clearance certificate online would be boon to government employees.

"Identifying that submission of vigilance clearance certificate for various cases like promotion is mandatory for government employees and getting it was a long and cumbersome process, we decided to make the process simpler and accessible," he revealed.

Father's Day

Father's Day is usually celebrated on 3rd Sunday of June every year. The significance of this day is paramount in everyone's life. A day solely dedicated to celebrating the fatherhood in our personalised way throughout the globe. The role of a father in a child's life is incomparable to anyone else. A father is a person who is always there for your support when you turn back, ready with a solution to every sort of problem, who takes care of all your needs & keep encouraging you throughout your life.

Father is the pillar of strength of a family which keeps the bond strong in all happy & challenging moments in life. Everyone celebrates father's day by making all the possible things to make the specific day unique for him. Let it be making cards, flowers or by performing something exclusively for him. This year I baked a cake for my father with the help of my mom & dedicated a song for him to let him know how important he is for me. I also spent the whole day with him, trying to help him in his work & responsibilities.

In the evening we also watched his favourite movie. Also, I promised myself that day that I will always try to keep him happy & will try to share his responsibilities from that day onwards. This father's day was one of the memorable days for me. But we all need to remember that we can't stop by celebrating it on one day, we need to have the care & love for him throughout our life. He is a person who makes us learn how to live life; his sacrifices for us are immense. We need to make every day memorable for him as he keeps doing for us.

"The power of a dad in a child's life is unmatched." —Justin Ricklefs

GoAP committed to foster partnership, dialogue...

He informed that the state government held an interactive discussion with the CBOs on 12 April this year, which led to the signing of a joint 21-point vision document.

"To further deepen the partnership, I had the privilege of leading a delegation of CBOs on a transformative journey to Ahmedabad, the iconic Statue of Unity in Kevadia, Gujarat, and to New Delhi. This immersive experience served as a catalyst in envisioning a future filled with possibilities and empowering our CBOs to play a pivotal role in shaping the destiny of our state. The prime minister interacted with the members of the CBOs, which ignited a renewed passion and deepened our collective resolve to steer Arunachal Pradesh as the growth engine in India's amrit kaal," he said.

Vivekananda International Foundation chairman Swaminathan Gurumurthy opined that the themes of diversity, inclusion and mutual respect are inter-dependent.

"Diversity is the foundation of human life and religion, and acknowledges that people are different with different nuances, and this, along with inclusion and mutual respect, needs a global-level introspection and discussion," he said.

"A profound topic like diversity should not be discussed in silos, but should be done along with virtues like human rights and modernity," he said, adding that "diversity is not an individual virtue but a collective one."

"We may not like it, but we need to accommodate diversity as a living virtue and not a virtue of library. Diversity is a living phenomenon," he said.

Besides stating that Arunachal has the capacity to generate 50,000 MW of hydroelectricity, he said that remarkable progress has been made in terms of connectivity under the BJP government.

He added, however, that "despite its tremendous potential, Arunachal Pradesh faces certain limitations in terms of marketing, agri-processing units, skilled manpower, and in research and development," and sought intervention of private companies to "invest and establish industries such as agro-based industries, food processing units and other ventures and help to overcome these challenges."
