Governor flags off Amrit Kalash Yatra

'Meri Maati Mera Desh' is a unique initiative of PM to strengthen the spirit of unity as one strong nation: Governor

ITANAGAR October 26 : The Governor of Arunachal Pradesh Lt. General KT Parnaik, PVSM, UYSM, YSM (Retd.) along with State Deputy Chief Minister Chowna Mein flagged off the Amrit Kalash Yatra of 'Meri Maati Mera Desh, Maati Ko Naman, Veeron Ka Vandan' programme from the State Civil Secretariat here on Thursday, October 26, 2023. 129 volunteers, including 41 girls and 5 officials from the Department of Youth affairs are participating in the Yatra.

Speaking on the occasion, the Governor said 'Meri Maati Mera Desh, Maati Ko Naman, Veeron Ka Vandan' is a unique initiative of Prime Minister Narendra Modi to strengthen the spirit of unity in every part of the country as a one strong nation. He said that India has different culture, traditions, heritage, environment and habitation but one thing is common for all, that is, the 'Mitti'. That is why, 'Meri Maati Mera Desh, Maati Ko Naman, Veeron Ka Vandan' programme is very important for every citizen of the country to participate in.

The Governor, while bestowing his good wishes to the volunteers, who are made up of achievers, social workers and Nehru Yuva Kendra members, said that they are part of a historical event and they must present their best as ambassadors of the State.

The Governor reminded the people that the Amrit Kalash Yatra aims to resurrect the spirit of Nation Pride, Nation First and Service to Nation and pay homage to the martyrs and honour the people who safeguard the boundaries. He said that 'Meri Maati Mera Desh' mass movement also aims to make Bharat a self-reliant developed nation by 2047, erase colonial mindset, take pride in the Indian culture and heritage, respect the people involved in protection of the territorial integrity and encourage every person to be a good citizen. Only a literate, disciplined and self-motivated person can be a good citizen, he underscored.

Deputy Chief Minister Chowna Mein said that Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav has provided Arunachal Pradesh to learn and recall the rich history of the State and remember the 220 freedom fighters of the State. While reiterating Hon'ble Prime Minister's 10 resolutions for a developed, self-reliant India during Vijaydashami, the Deputy Chief Minister called upon the people to save water for future generation, motivate people to use digital payment systems, be sensitive towards maintaining cleanliness in villages and towns, follow vocal for local, do quality work and make quality products, travel across our own country first and then the world, educate farmers about natural farming, include millets in our daily diet, focus on personal fitness (sports, yoga) and uplift socio-economic status of at least one poor family.

Cultural Affairs Secretary Swapnil Naik and Youth Affairs Secretary, Abu Tayeng presented a brief about the 'Meri Maati Mera Desh, Maati Ko Naman, Veeron Ka Vandan' campaign in the State.

State Home Minister Bamang Felix, members of the State Legislative Assembly and officials of the State Civil Secretariat were present on the occasion.

Platinum Jubilee celebration of Govt Secondary School, Balek held

Govt schools established before Independence will be declared as 'Heritage School' - CM

PASIGHAT, October 26:

Chief Minister Pema Khandu on Wednesday announced that all government schools of the state established before Independence will be declared as 'Heritage School' and given special attention for infrastructure development along with a museum within the premises.

This came in response to a request by organizers of the Platinum Jubilee celebration of the Government Secondary School, Balek near here, for declaring the school as a Heritage School.

Established as a Lower Primary school in 1946, the Government Secondary School, Balek, is celebrating its Platinum Jubilee, which was declared open by the Chief Minister today.

"This is one of the best requests that I have come across. Not only this school but all pre-Independence government schools in the state will be declared as Heritage Schools with a museum showcasing its rich history," he said.

To another request, Khandu directed the Deputy Director of School Education (DDSE) of East Siang to submit a formal proposal to the government to expedite the process of upgrading the school to a higher secondary school.

Khandu dedicates St Vairotsana Academy in Dirang to state's people;

Emphasizes on quality education at pre-primary level

DIRANG, October 26:

Chief Minister Pema Khandu had dedicated the St Vairotsana Academy, situated at the picturesque Chug Valley in Dirang, West Kameng district, to the people of the state here on October 23 last.

St Vairotsana Academy, a residential school for underprivileged run by His Eminence Kyabje Ugyen Choephel Rinpoche, was established in 2016 with donations from philanthropists, especially from Vietnam and Malaysia.

Expressing gratitude on behalf of the people of Arunachal Pradesh, particularly of West Kameng and Tawang districts, to His Eminence Kyabje Ugyen Choephel Rinpoche and the donors, who were present on the occasion, Khandu said that 'their gift to people will be cherished forever.

He said that opening a school with the objective to impart quality education to the downtrodden is one of the most pious and noble philanthropic acts.

"I am grateful to His Eminence Kyabje Ugyen Choephel Rinpoche for choosing Chug Valley of all places that he surveyed for establishing the school despite the fact that he is not native to Arunachal Pradesh," Khandu said.

He said that the best part is that the school, along with contemporary education, will also impart customary and religious values of the Mon region to its students.

"Modernity is necessary but not at the cost of our traditional values. We must ensure that along with modern education our children should also be aware of our traditional values," he said.

Governor visits Vibrant Border Village Tuting

Vibrant Village Programme must be collaborative in nature, wherein armed forces and local people share their facilities and resources - Governor

TUTING, October 26:

The Governor of Arunachal Pradesh Lt. General KT Parnaik, PVSM, UYSM, YSM (Retd.) visited the vibrant border village of Tuting in Upper Siang District on October 20, 2023.

He interacted with Goan Burahs, Panchayat members, villagers and government officials during his visit. Tuting in Upper Siang District is one of the selected border villages under Vibrant Village Pilot programme in Arunachal Pradesh.

Interacting with the people, the Governor said that Indian armed forces are there to maintain the security in the border but they need the cooperation of local people. In turn the armed forces and paramilitary forces will go out to assist the border villages in any possible way, he said.

The Governor, who has been visiting vibrant border villages, said that the Government of India has initiated the Vibrant Village Programme for holistic development of the border areas. He said that it must be collaborative in nature, wherein armed forces and local people share their facilities and resources.

The Governor urged upon the villagers to harness the potential of their areas by focusing on tourism, poultry, animal husbandry and horticulture. He said by supplying fresh vegetables and poultry items to the armed forces stationed near the villages, the villagers can earn a good livelihood, become self-reliant and capable, while the security forces will get fresh food items.

World Savings Day

World Savings Day, also known as World Thrift Day, is a holiday we celebrate on October 31 every year. The holiday highlights the necessity of saving for the future. There are many reasons why one would need to save, including for retirement, education, property purchase, marriage, etc. It is also good to be prepared for unforeseen circumstances and save, even if you have no plans for the money yet. In certain situations, saving has been a lifesaver as it helps to overcome sudden unfortunate situations.

It's good to get into the habit of saving early on in life, and although going to college is seen as a huge debt building exercise, it doesn't have to be that way. A great way to start saving early is by availing scholarships in your early student life. Clueless about where to start? Visit Scholaroo to find all the information that you will need on scholarships.

World Savings Day started on October 30, 1924, at the end of the first International Thrift Congress in Milan. The day was officially launched by Filippo Ravizza, an Italian professor, who called it International Savings Day. The idea was quickly supported by various associations who also saw the importance of saving.

Though there are accounts of individual countries that observe a day for saving, World Savings Day made the idea more universal, bringing more people on board. Also, some countries needed encouragement due to the effects of war. However, after the Second World War, thriftiness became more popular than ever.

The importance of saving prompted banks to open their doors to more people, especially in developing nations. Non-governmental organizations have also been very pivotal in bringing the importance of savings to the fore.

Each year, World Savings Day has a different theme that encapsulates the spirit of saving. These themes encourage more people to engage in the habit of saving. Likewise, banks and other financial institutions have come up with several schemes that help people to save more and make meaningful investments. On this holiday, the government and institutions such as schools and media outlets raise awareness to encourage more people to save.

World Savings Day is also a holiday that aims to influence children to save. Piggy banks have always been a good idea, as it creates a sense of wealth when the children realize how much they've saved. And let's be honest, even adults love the idea of piggy banks!

DCM inaugurates Bazar Shiv Mandir in Roing

ROING, October 26:

It was in the year 1983 when Late Khumso Mithi Naba established a Shiv Mandir in Roing, dedicated to the Hindu community of the area. Since then, the Mithi family have been upholding the divine aura of the holy sanctuary, which has been carried forward by Khumso Mithi Naba's son, Former Chief Minister of Arunachal Pradesh, Mukut Mithi and now by his grandson, MLA (Roing) Mutchu Mithi.

With a vision to provide a stronger foundation to the temple, the newly consecrated Bazar Shiv Mandir was inaugurated by State's Deputy Chief Minister Chowna Mein, in the august presence of former CM Mukut Mithi, MLAs Mutchu Mithi and Zingnu Namchoom, and others on October 20 last.

The new foundation of the temple will enable a sacred place for the Hindu community residing in Roing, as well as serve as an ideal destination for celebration of the festivals with great enthusiasm.

Addressing the gathering, Deputy Chief Minister Mein appreciated the Mithi family for their collective efforts in preserving the spiritual sanctity of the temple for decades, which has become an integral place of worship since its establishment.

Mein emphasized on the importance of holding on to the cultural heritages of the land and assured that the Government of Arunachal Pradesh is committed in this endeavor while moving ahead with developmental projects in line with the vision of building a Vikhasit Bharat. Some of the key objectives that are driving advancement in the state include infrastructural development, tourism building, and strengthening border security and so on.

He called for adherence to own cultural traditions, while accepting modernity and exhorted the people to be responsible towards their own duties for realizing the objective of a developed India.

At the inauguration ceremony, Mein along with the dignitaries present offered prayers to Maa Durga on the occasion of Shashti, marking the beginning of Durga Puja celebration through Eastern India and beyond. During the occasion, they also paid homage to Late Khumso Mithi ji whose long-standing legacy has led to the consecration of the Bazar Shiv Mandir in Roing.

Among others were also present, former Minister Roding Pertin, Assistant Commissioner (Roing), Srinivas Sadi, PRI Leaders, Govt Officers and Business community.

Platinum Jubilee celebration of Govt Secondary School...

"This is a historic occasion. The school's journey of 75 years is a big milestone given the fact that Arunachal Pradesh was born as union territory in 1972 and became a full-fledged state only in 1987," Khandu observed.

Hailing the school for producing many luminaries in its long journey of 75 years, he paid rich tributes to those who have passed away and congratulated those who are serving in various capacities and those who have retired.

Khandu said that from 3-4 schools established before Independence, Arunachal Pradesh today has more than 3000 government schools across the state. "We have faced immense challenges particularly in the education sector but we have kept our progress steadfast," he said.

He, however, emphasized on quality rather than quantity.

"We have focused more on establishing schools after schools without keeping an eye on quality of education being imparted in these schools," he pointed.

Khandu blamed the huge number of schools without proper infrastructure and manpower in the state on 'politics of appeasement'. He asserted that his government does not believe in political appeasement but on quality of schemes and projects.

"We have taken education very seriously. In fact we have shut down about 400 government schools having zero attendance. The process is still on. We don't need more schools but we need quality education from the existing schools for which government is extending all support," he said.

He informed that he has already given direction to the Education department for mapping of all government-run schools in the state so that the government can keep a tag on each school.

Reiterating the importance of School Management Committees (SMC) in proper functioning and development of schools. He advised the SMC members of every school in the state to regularly visit and interact with teachers, students and parents and then submit reports to concerned DDEs for fulfilment of the requirements if any.

Referring to the 3-day Platinum Jubilee celebration, Khandu urged the alumni of the school to raise the topic of quality education in their discussions.

"Alumni of this school, who have gathered here for the 3-day celebration, are well educated and knowledgeable persons with vast experiences. Please discuss on how we can improve the quality of education in government schools and pass on your suggestions to the government," he appealed.

Earlier in the day, Khandu unveiled the bust of late Ketem Yomso, who donated the land for establishment of the Balek school, inaugurated the retrofitted and beautified school gate by a local NGO - GidangAngong Society and joined a tree plantation drive at school campus besides felicitating 10 meritorious alumni of the school.

He also inaugurated 5 development projects and laid the foundations for 13 more projects at Pasighat besides announcing a new market on the land donated by locals.

Also present were MP Tapir Gao, MLAs Kaling Moyong, Ninong Ering, Lombo Tayeng, Gum Tayeng, Talem Taboh, Ojing Tasing and Kangong Taku and officials of the district administration.

Governor visits Vibrant Border Village Tuting...

The Governor suggested that the elected members of the State, secretaries and officers from various departments must visit the border and remote villages in line with regular visits being made by the Union Ministers and the secretaries to the Government of India to our State. He said that such a proactive role of elected members and officers of the State can usher-in a sea change in making our village vibrant.

Highlighting the importance of healthcare and education in the villages, the Governor called upon the villagers to cooperate and assist the health department in eradication of drugs, tuberculosis and cancer and encourage the youth to acquire minimum a higher secondary education. He said a literate, disciplined and motivated population can make Arunachal Pradesh a vibrant and prosperous State, while stressing on use of technology in addressing the challenges.

Responding to a one-point memorandum, the Governor assured the vibrant border village population to take up the electricity power issue along with road connectivity with the State Government and Border Roads Organization, which was received with huge applause. He also shared his vision for developing the remote villages by skilling the volunteers in health, hygiene and sanitation with incentives.

Local MLA and Minister for Health and Family Welfare Alo Libang also spoke on the occasion, while Upper Siang Deputy Commissioner Hage Lai-lang briefed the Governor about the Vibrant Village Programme in the district.

Director General of Police Shri Anand Mohan, Secretary to Governor Darade Sharad Bhaskar, Superintendent of Police Token Saring and Starlie Jamoh, Addl. Deputy Commissioner, Tuting along with district officials were present in the meeting.

Khandu dedicates St Vairotsana Academy in Dirang...

Emphasizing on quality education at the pre-primary level, Khandu said that kids in pre-primary level should be taken utmost care as this stage forms the foundation of their educational career.

He urged every member of the society to support the school administration and school management committees especially of government schools to be pro-active and ensure discipline.

To a request for government support in form of a corpus fund for the school, Khandu assured that the same will be provided at the soonest. He also assured government support in other requirements of the school.

"Constructing buildings is the easiest task but using these building to impart quality education to the students is the hardest. The onus now lies on the principal and faculty members. I believe they will live up to our expectations," Khandu added.

Meanwhile, the chief minister also inaugurated a 150 capacity new hostel building of the school.

Also present were local legislator Phurpa Tsering, Kalaktang MLA Dorjee Wangdi Kharma, district administration officials, representatives of ITBP and SSB and Buddhist monks from various states and countries.

Raksha Mantri visits forward posts in Arunachal Pradesh...

He added that not just Indians, but even Italian people pay their respects at the memorial, which is proof that the bravery of Indian soldiers is recognized globally.

In view of the current global scenario, Singh asserted that there is no option but to bolster the country's security apparatus, underlining that all efforts are being made by the government to strengthen the nation's military prowess through indigenous production of defence equipment. "Under the visionary leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, giant strides have been made towards 'Aatmanirbharta' in defence. Earlier, we used to rely on imports to upgrade our military, but today, a number of major weapons & platforms are being manufactured within the country, he said, adding foreign companies are being encouraged to share their technology and produce the equipment in India with domestic industry. The Minister further informed that in 2014, the value of defence exports was about Rs 1,000 crore, but today we are exporting defence equipment worth thousands of crores".

The Defence Minister also visited the Tawang War Memorial, where he laid a wreath and offered tributes to the brave hearts who made the supreme sacrifice during the 1962 war. He was accompanied by Chief of the Army Staff General Manoj Pande; General Officer Commanding-in-Chief (GoC-in-C) Eastern Command IT Gen RP Kalita; GoC, 4 Corps IT Gen Manish Erry and other senior officers of the Indian Army.

Singh also visited the 4 corps headquarters at Tezpur in Assam, where he reviewed the operational readiness of the formation, which is deployed in one of the easternmost parts of the country. On the occasion the Raksha Mantri was briefed on the infrastructure development along the LAC and the employment of cutting-edge military equipment and technology to enhance the operational efficiency of the troops deployed in the frontline. He commended the stellar work and yeoman services being rendered by all ranks of the Corps under challenging conditions.

Mein reviews preparation of Seva Maah to be launched on Oct 31

NAMSAL, October 26:

Deputy Chief Minister Chowna Mein at a meeting held on October 19 last, reviewed the preparation for holding Seva Apke Dwar camps in all the 3 blocks in Namsai district under the theme 'Journey towards saturation'.

During the meeting, various aspects related to holding the Seva Maah were discussed. He urged the departments to work in coordination for successful conduct of the event. He also emphasized that beneficiaries of various central and state sponsored schemes should be given the opportunity to share their testimonials during the event.

Emphasizing the importance of effective teaching of local languages in schools, he directed the DDSE to monitor the teaching learning process of tai language and also urged to introduce sports activities as a part of school curriculum.

Namsai MLA, Chau Zingnu Namchoom, said that agri-tourism should be promoted and FPOs and tea production in the district should be brought under the loop of tourism for which publicity is the need of the hour. He further emphasized that sports sector should be given importance to promote an alternative livelihood for the younger generations. "Sports enthusiasts should be identified and encouraged and sports activities should be a routine affair from school level", he said.

ZPC Namsai, DC Namsai were also present in the review meeting held with the district officials.

APIC organizes RTI awareness campaign at Longding

LONGDING, October 26:

An RTI awareness campaign was organized at Longding District Hqs by Arunachal Pradesh Information Commission in collaboration with District Administration and AAPSU on October 22 last.

The resource person of the program was Ms Sonam Yudron, State Information Commissioner.

Longding DC, Bani Lego, while addressing the gathering said RTI is an important tool to promote transparency and accountability on the part of the government thereby giving true meaning to the democracy. He suggested the PIOs/APIOs to perform their responsibilities effectively furnish necessary information to the appellants in timely manner. Then he requested appellant to use the rights under RTI in public interest.

Speaking on the occasion Ms Yudron spoke about the genesis of the RTI and discussed various powers and duties of the PIOs/APIOs. She also delineated on the responsibilities of the information seekers. She cautioned people from filing bogus and frivolous RTIs for parochial gains.

She also said that the RTI applicant should avoid seeking unrealistic information, "some people ask information for 10 to 15 years which creates unnecessary burden" she said. "The commission has now decided to entertain application for furnishing information for one financial year, one block and one project", she added. She further urged that public authorities should maintain all the information in a proper manner so as to make information easily accessible. Also, she urged the officials to disclose information in a voluntary manner on various official platforms and in the office so that people readily get information without needing to file an RTI application.

If used properly, RTI will ensure transparency and accountability and aid in the process of development, Ms Yudron told.

The program was attended by Techu Aran ADC Kanubari, Mirpe Tato ADC Longding, All HoDs, officials RTI Activists, student leaders and other stakeholders.

Induction-cum-Orientation programme of DNGC, NCC Unit held

ITANAGAR, October 26:

An Induction-cum-Orientation programme was organized by NSS Unit of Dera Nating Government College (DNGC), Itanagar on October 21 last in the college Auditorium.

The event was graced by the presence of Dr. M.Q. Khan, Principal, DNGC, and three NSS Programme Officers namely- Botem Moyong, Assistant Professor Mathematics, Dr. Chello Lima, Assistant Professor Commerce and Phuntso Gombu, Assistant Professor Chemistry.

Addressing the occasion, Principal Dr. M.Q. Khan, advised the students to become a torch bearer of the society. He suggested the members present to keep awareness, parameters and documentation of every successful event organized by NSS Unit DNGC which can lead the college's reputation up to the next higher level including NAAC Accreditation, etc. He urged emphatically and warned against misuse of college name and college logo in creating social media groups and pages by unauthorized persons.

He further exhorted the volunteers to create awareness among other students of the college to imbibe belongingness to college and to inculcate power of positivity and discipline without which success in life is impossible. He strictly suggested the people to follow only the official website/page of DNGC like www.dngc.ac.in, DNGC-SMC Facebook page, etc. He requested the people to refrain from posting/doing malicious post/activities in social media which may tarnish the hard-earned reputation and image of the college. Lastly, he concluded his speech with a beautiful and powerful slogan "Bhanwar se darkar Kashti Kabhi Paar Nahi Hoti, Kossish Karne Walon ki Kabhi Haar Nahi Hoti".

Dr. Chello Lima, Assistant Professor -cum- Programme Officer, NSS Unit DNGC presented the technical session of event via power point presentation wherein she elaborated the motto, terms, working rule, functions, activities and importance of NSS to the newly inducted NSS volunteers of DNGC. In her lecture, she added that the meaning of NSS is very vast and unexplainable which includes social transformation and upliftment, a platform to expose hidden talent of the students, personality development, knowledge and confidence which makes the person remain invincible in every sphere of life. Further, she highlighted the NSS activities viz. Regular activities and special camping. She talked about importance of NSS certificate and informed that the NSS Certificate is being issued only after completing 2 years of volunteerism.

Earlier, the event started with NSS Anthem which was followed by welcome speech from Phuntso Gombu, Assistant Professor Chemistry, who is also a Programme Officer of NSS Unit DNGC. In his speech, he talked about the meaning and importance of NSS and its role in our society. He motivated the students to remain proactive and come forward in doing noble job as an NSS volunteer.

Sangha Apo, one of the senior NSS volunteers of DNGC, presented a slide show displaying the summary of past activities organized/conducted by NSS Unit of DNGC during the session 2022-23.

While extending vote of thanks to all, Botem Moyong, Assistant Professor Mathematics-cum-Programme Officer, NSS Unit DNGC, lauded the volunteers of NSS Unit DNGC, which is one of the best Units in Arunachal Pradesh. He also advised the students to stay positive, energetic and optimistic in life. He informed that NSS Unit DNGC is the back bone of the college and, nothing is impossible until and unless the support of NSS volunteers is there.

The programme was attended by around 400 NSS volunteers including 200 newly inducted NSS volunteers and 200 senior volunteers. The NSS Unit DNGC organizes such event every year in the college to enlighten the newly inducted NSS volunteers towards all round development and moral responsibility of NSS volunteers.

Lohit Youth Library Movement lauded in Mussoorie Academy

WAKRO, October 26:

Lohit Youth Library Network won warm appreciation at the Lal Bahadur Shastri National Academy of Administration (LBSNAA) this week, as Coordinator, Sathyanarayanan Mundayoor presented the library Movement's efforts to stimulate the joy of reading among the reading deprived in eastern Arunachal recently.

The talk was part of an interaction series with Padma awardees at the 98th Foundation Course, the flagship training programme for young entrants into India's prestigious civil services. 500 odd newly inducted officer trainees from India and Bhutan from the Indian Administrative Service, Indian Police Service, Indian Foreign Service, Indian Forest Service, Indian Revenue Services, and eleven other central civil services attended these sessions.

Presenting his talk on "Promoting education through joyful reading in script-less language communities", the Coordinator, Lohit Youth Libraries, Mundayoor elaborated on the vital importance of hand-holding of Govt agencies with NGOs and youth groups. Outlining the enthusiastic support and encouragement received by library volunteers from enlightened administrators and committed public leaders, he pointed out that such support can generate faith in youth to become volunteers for serving selflessly their less-fortunate brethren.

Shining examples of such generous backing are library patrons like former DC Lohit Prashant Lokhande and Dy Chief Minister Chowna Mein and several others across the country who are conscious of the importance of volunteers in ensuring the benefits of reading movement reaching remote pockets. "As Arunachali communities have a long tradition of honesty, cooperation and team-work, these values need to be enriched and transferred to public service arenas like Govt school education."

Pointing out that the library network model can be adapted in any part of the country, the Coordinator was confident that with mass participation, Arunachal will develop 100% reading societies by 2032.

Expressing his happiness that several officer-trainees were keenly interested in discussing finer details of the youth library movement, he recorded his profound thanks to the Academy Course Director Ms Chhavi Bhardwaj IAS., and other faculty at LBSNAA, for this unique honour to social activists and for the meticulous care and courtesy extended to the guest speakers.

Apart from the Coordinator, Lohit Youth Library Network, the eminent Padma awardee social workers who spoke were Sunitha Krishnan, (Founder, Prajwala Trust, Andhra Pradesh), Dr Sruti Mohapatra, Disability rights activist from Orissa and Dr Anil Prakash Joshi, environmentalist (HESCO, Uttarakhand).

Sunitha Krishnan, who spearheads the Anti-trafficking movement, vividly presented the acute hardships and exploitation of women, girls and children trapped, deceived or kidnapped by the mafia. She appealed to the officers to work for educating the common people against such atrocities against women and children, while Dr Sruti Mohapatra, who herself became a disabled after a road accident, narrated her mighty struggle to bring in disabled-friendly reforms in Govt planning systems and initiate disabled-friendly facilities in public places. She appealed to the officers to be leaders in working towards a sensitive world, conscious about all types of disabilities.

Recalling the recent climate tragedies in Himachal Pradesh, Uttarakhand & Sikkim, Dr Anil Joshi, a champion of environmental activism in the Himalayas, highlighted how economic development can go hand in hand with ecological conservation, for building a progressive India.

Mentor Secy reviews scheme implementations in DLMC meeting

DURGA PUJA - DEKH KABIRA ROE

RAVANA effige is burnt every year, but RAVANA is still Alive
LET'S BURN THE REAL RAVANA

Jayadev Sahoo

Ya Devi sarva bhuteshu Matri rupena samsthita, Ya Devi sarva bhuteshu Shakti rupena samsthita
Ya Devi sarva bhutesu Shanti rupena samsthita, Namestasyai Namestasyai Namestasyai Namah”

Translation:

“The goddess who is omnipresent as the personification of universal mother
The goddess who is omnipresent as the embodiment of power
The goddess who is omnipresent as the symbol of peace;
I bow to her, I bow to her, I bow to her”

The cycle of time keeps rotating but its memories remains. To freshen these memories, memorials are made, stories are written, birthdays are observed, in which self-respects, love, true feelings are imbibed. Unfortunately, a day comes when respects & love ceases and rituals remain. It would not be exaggeration to say that festivals now-a-days are being celebrated just continue the tradition. India is a spiritual oriented country and is one of the richest nations in respect of cultural and spiritual perspective. Bharat is well known for festivals. The festivals of this land form the most important link that sustains its cultural heritage. The number of festivals celebrated here is hardly comparable to festivals celebrated by other countries. Twelve months in a year is filled with thirteen big festivals. Among India's most colorful and lively festivals is Navratri (Festival of Nine Nights), and Durga Puja is one of the most popular versions of this festival celebrated in Eastern India. 'Dussehra-Vijaya Dashmi' has a special importance among them. The auspicious festival had been reduced to an annual ritual hardly reflecting its true significance.

In today's life, full of chaos, tension and turmoil, festivals bring a new joy, zeal, enthusiasm, mutual love and cordiality in our lives. However, in the absence of true knowledge, we can't understand the real message behind the festivals and just keep celebrating them by observing rituals. It is only through the real knowledge revealed by Incorporeal God Shiva through the corporeal medium of Prajapita Brahma in the present auspicious Confluence Age that the darkness of ignorance disappears and we are able to live our lives in a virtuous and value-based manner.

The deeper significance of this festival has been lost in the loud of commercialisation and ritualistic traditions marking the day. Unknown to many, this festival is rooted in several myths and a spiritual truth of great significance that reflect its purity and power of protection.

Now what is the esoteric meaning of this festival?

The rich Hindu pantheon of Gods and Goddesses is astounding; each persona harbours an ocean of divine qualities and powers. But how ironic that 'devotion' is gradually evaporating from 'religion'... Though we spend exorbitantly on Dusshera celebrations yearly, do we ever reflect on whether Maa Durga appreciates this pomp, the lavish pooja ensembles, the unending, raucous entertainment that usually bear no religious significance, the uncontrolled use of alcohol, the thumping on the idols during visarjan... We were meant to be honouring a divine being yet Maa Durga is subjected to an atmosphere of grave consequences! Without a doubt honest efforts are being invested to keep traditions alive by camouflaging the Festival with modern paraphernalia. It is commendable and inspiring to witness the unification of families and communities as a result of the celebrations but is the human soul being empowered and coming closer to the Almighty? Can we afford to forsake it? Festivals are precious for lifting our spirits, binding stronger relationships with family and friends, and carrying forth ancient traditions to new generations and the world. The magic of these festivals hold no meaning unless the spiritual significance is realised and emulated.

The Story Behind Durga Puja
Durga Pooja also referred to as Durgotsava ("Festival of Durga") or Sharadotsav or 'Dussehra', or 'Vijaya Dashmi', a Hindu festival is enthusiastically celebrated every year in South Asia that celebrates worship of the Hindu goddess Durga. Navratri is a celebration of the victory of good over evil, with several variations of the tradition all over India.

Durga Puja festival marks the victory of Goddess Durga over the evil-buffalo demon- Mahisasur. According to legend, Durga was summoned by the gods Brahma, Vishnu, and Shiva, to defeat the demon, who had set out to conquer the world. To help her win the battle, each of the major Hindu gods gave Durga weapons and other objects to assist her. Durga went into battle mounted on a lion and on the tenth day of the battle, she finally killed the demon. Navratri commemorates the nine days and nights of the battle between good and evil, but Durga Puja is celebrated only on the Mahalaya and last five days, as Mahalaya, Shashthi, Maha Saptami, Maha Ashtami, Maha Nabami and Vijaya Dashami when according to legend, Durga leaves her heavenly abode to visit earth each year. Dussehra marks the beginning of the festive season, extending up to twenty days till Diwali, which is another largely celebrated festival. The dates of Durga Puja celebrations are set according to the traditional Hindu Calender and the fortnight corresponding to the festival is called Devi Paksha, "Fortnight of the Goddess"). Devi Paksha is preceded by Mahalaya, the last day of the previous fortnight Pitri Paksha, "Fortnight of the Forefathers", and is ended on Kojagori Lokkhi Puja ("Worship of Goddess Lakshmi on Kojagori Full Moon Night").

Dussehra is also celebrated by burning the effigies of the ten-headed devil Ravana, who was believed to be the King of Lanka. The world is totally ignorant about the presence of Ravana in the human beings. As per great Hindu scripture Ramayana, it is said that Ravana, who, despite being a very ardent devotee of God Shiva, had abducted Rama's wife Sita, mainly because of his ego and vice of sex-lust. Later, Rama with the help of an army of monkeys (Vanar Sena), fought a war with Ravana and killed him. Thus, Durga Puja festival epitomises the victory of Good over Evil. It symbolizes the victory of good over evil and truth over falsehood. According to Godly knowledge revealed by God Shiva, the legends mostly bear symbolic significance, relating to the present Confluence Age.

Otherwise, it is impossible for any human being to have ten heads. The mystery behind the same aspect is very clearly explained by Him that in the present Kaliyuga, all human beings are afflicted by Ravana, i.e., five vices (Sex-Lust, Anger, Greed, Attachment and Ego). That is why Ravana- Dassanan is shown to have ten heads, i.e., symbols of five vices present in men and women. In Sanskrit also, Dussehra means taking away of ten vices. Thus, Ravana is more of a symbol of these vices rather than a historical figure. Dussehra symbolizes the burning of these vices from their root, which is possible only when we, the souls who have become vicious and sinful because of bodyconsciousness, birth after birth since Dwapur Yuga and because of ignorance of true knowledge, are enlightened by Almighty God Shiva with these very aspects. Incorporeal God is also known as Paramatma Ram, who is different from Shri Ram of Ramayana fame. However, in ignorance of the true identity of God, we have called Him omnipresent, and thus, abused Him, because by calling Him omnipresent we have assumed that He is present in all the creatures, such as animals, birds, insects etc. In fact, God Shiva is bestowing on us the real Gita Knowledge. Through His Gyan Murli, i.e., the flute of knowledge, He gives us the most elevated Shirmat, i.e., Godly advice. He tells us various codes of conducts, which we must abide by at all costs.

However, if we cross this 'Line of Control', which is referred to as 'Lakshman Rekha' in Ramayana, we souls, who are Ram's true Sitas, are put in the cage of Ravana or vices, which is referred to as Shoka Vatika. Thus, the mention of Sita being detained by Ravana is also the symbolic reference of the fact that in this old vicious world all souls are influenced by Ravana. Seeing us in such a distressed and impure state, God Shiva reincarnates, bestows on us His most elevated Godly knowledge and, thus, liberates us from Shoka Vatika of Ravana and takes us to the Ashoka Vatika, i.e. Golden Age for 21 births. The ever-increasing influence of these deeply rooted five vices and their progeny such as jealousy, cunningness, laziness, carelessness etc. can be evidenced from the increasing size of effigies of Ravana which are burnt every year. This proves that despite burning Ravana's effigies every year, we have failed to burn the real Ravana. This is evidenced by innumerable nuclear weapons and missiles which have been invented by various nations to destroy the enemy countries. According to Godly knowledge, nuclear wars, natural calamities and civil wars become instrumental in the great transformation of the old, vicious, dirty Kaliyugi world. And, in order to give us our birthright of liberation and fruition, He takes the help of us children, who before receiving this Godly knowledge were so vicious and sinful like monkeys. Monkey is such an animal who possesses all the five vices at extreme, more than any other creature. The same fact has been mentioned apparently in Ramayana that in order to kill Ravana, Rama had taken the help of an army of monkeys only not any human being. We must introspect and try to find out the reason why despite celebrating these festivals year after year, we haven't become viceless or pure? Why even after reading these sacred scriptures a number of times, our minds and intellects are still polluted and we keep on doing misdeeds day after day. Let's understand that God has given us the slogan, "World Transformation through Self Transformation."

Quarrels, fights and confrontations have literally become the accepted norms of the day even for petty matters. Not even a single person is happy and peaceful. The cremation of the 5 vices, as mentioned earlier, will be the real celebration of Dusshera. This can only be possible if we attain Godly knowledge, i. e., know the self and God, and practise Rajyoga meditation. Through meditation one can establish the strong link with Incorporeal God Shiva whom we lovingly call Shiv Baba. He is a point of light. God also says that charity begins at home. If I want to change the world, I need to change myself first. In view of the signals from the pathetic conditions of the world including nature, people etc., it can be inferred that destruction is round the corner. So, very less time has been left before we make our final journey to our Sweet Silence Home, i.e., Incorporeal World, for which we must all need to put in our best efforts to burn our past sins and misdeeds through God's loving and powerful remembrance and thus become viceless and pure.

But this destruction will be followed by the establishment of new world – Golden Age or Paradise, where everything will be pure and fresh. So, in order to be part of the new civilization, on this auspicious occasion of Dusshera, Let's take a moment for deep spiritual introspection and free ourselves from the bondage of greed, the lust for power and a slave of promiscuity and make God our eternal companion for true peace, happiness and prosperity. Let's pledge on this Dussehra, to forge all relationships -Supreme Communion (Raja Yoga) with Supreme Being 'God' - Incorporeal Point of a conscient Eternal Light, imbibe 8-Spiritual Powers (Symbolically represented as 8 weapons in 8 hands of DURGA) viz. power to withdraw, power to pack up, power to tolerate, power to accommodate, power of discrimination, power to judge, power to face, power to co-operate and burn the vicious Ravana from our mind and intellect completely by the fire of RAJAYOGA Meditation and thus, become entitled to our God Fatherly birthright of Golden Age for 21 births. This will be celebrating Dusshera in the real sense. The understanding of this eternal truth will usher in religious harmony& world peace. Brahma Kumaris World Spiritual University has been engaged in this task for last 83 years since its inception in 1936-37.

The true way of celebrating 'Dusshera' would be to realize the significance of the present auspicious time (Sangam Yuga, which is end of Kaliyuga - Iron Age and the beginning of Satyuga - Golden Age) and by pledging to discard all negative traits such as anger, greed, ego and lust and by leading a life filled of love, compassion, respect, humility, cooperation, responsibility, divinity to establish a Value Based Better Society of "Culture of Peace & Non Violence".

Happy greetings on the auspicious festival of "Dussehra-Vijaya Dashmi-Festival of the victory of Good Over evil".

!!!!!!Om Shanti!!!!!!

Speaking on the occasion Miss Ayi Remi Ering, DHO Pasighat welcomed all the participants and highlighted about the aims and objective of the three days long program. She briefed on the scope and importance of mushroom cultivation in the district and urged the trainees to make the best use of the training program.

Earlier, Oyin Tayeng, SDHO Pasighat, while encouraging the farmers on mushroom production also laid emphasis on women empowerment through its cultivation. He briefed on schemes like ANBY taken up by the department wherein farmers can apply for mushroom cultivation.

The training was aimed to impart basic knowledge on cultivation of mushrooms and spawn production technology, to provide practical experience on mushroom cultivation with special emphasis to oyster and button mushroom cultivation and to promote self-employment. Various topics like Scope and importance of mushroom cultivation, its nutritional and medicinal value, small scale mushroom production technology, popular cultivated mushroom and their production technology, Spawn Production etc, were covered in the training. During the program, practical demonstration on cultivation of oyster mushroom, quality substrate and spawn selection was also shown by the technical staffs of MDC office, Pasighat.

Resource person Dr. R.C. Shakywar, Associate Professor, Department of Plant Pathology College of Horticulture and Forestry Pasighat, gave a detailed presentation on cultivation aspect of Button mushrooms and talked on Spawn production technology. Dr. Aido Taloh, HDO Ruksin, delivered a lecture on Commercial cultivation of Oyster mushrooms. Miss Nuka Dai, HDO, MDC in-charge Pasighat, highlighted about Trichoderma (Green mold fungus), a mushroom growers' enemy and how to prevent it.

To encourage the trainees, free spawn and informative pamphlets were distributed. Later, all the trainees were felicitated with certificates.

KVIC organizes seminar & debate at RGU

DOIMUKH, October 26:

A seminar was organized by the Khadi & Village Industries Commission; in partnership with the Faculty of Agricultural Sciences at Rajiv Gandhi University on October 19, 2023 shed light on the vital People's Education Programme (PEP).

The event featured engaging presentations by eminent figures such as Chetan Singh, Director In charge at the Khadi & Village Industries Commission and Ankita Roy, a dynamic Young Professional from the same institution.

Chetan Singh, in his address, passionately advocated the integration of Khadi into our daily lives, emphasizing its role in realizing the vision of Atma Nirbhar Bharat. He stressed the pivotal contribution of Khadi and Village industries to rural areas, highlighting their crucial role in economic growth. The high point of the seminar was a stimulating debate competition, bringing together participants from diverse departments to discuss the topic, "Rural industrialization is necessary employment generation in Indian context" These debates ignited intellectual discussions and exchange of ideas among the attendees. First position was secured by Heri Tari from the Department of Education, the second position was claimed by Somu Barman from the Department of Commerce and the third position was earned by Ajay Pratap, an MBA student, in the debate competition.

Vice Chancellor Prof. Saket Kushwaha conveyed the message that Khadi holds great importance in rural life and the rural economy. The adoption of Khadi encourages rural economic development, with a specific focus on uplifting the socio-economic status of tribal populations, who are the backbone of rural north-eastern India.

Dr. N T Rikam, Registrar of Rajiv Gandhi University, shared invaluable insights, underlining the fact that rural industries are the backbone of India's economy. He emphasized the transformative potential of rural industries in tribal areas, offering a wider scope for development.

Prof. Sumpam Tangjang, Dean of Agriculture, said that the majority of the population depends on agriculture. He emphasized the need to promote rural industries to bring prosperity to the rural economy.

The event attracted an enthusiastic audience, including agricultural faculties and students, who came together for constructive discussions and to gain deeper insights into the critical role of Khadi and Village industries in India's rural development. This seminar served as an enlightening platform for knowledge sharing and collaboration between academia and the Khadi & Village Industries Commission, furthering the mission of fostering rural industrialization and education. It reaffirmed the belief that by empowering these industries, we can achieve economic self-reliance and create sustainable employment opportunities for India's rural populace.

Assam Rifles apprehends hardcore cadre of NSCN-K (YA)

LONGDING, October 26:

In a significant operation launched by Khonsa Battalion of Assam Rifles in conjunction with Arunachal Pradesh police on October 22, 2023, one active Burmese cadre of NSCN-K (YA) was apprehended in Longding district.

The joint team of security forces worked on a credible input to launch in the border village of Chop in Longding district. After diligent sleuth-ing, the security forces were able to identify and apprehend the hardcore cadre, who had infiltrated from Myanmar to extort money and indulge in narco terrorism, in a bid to fuel the anti national agenda of the proscribed group. His attempt to do so was however, foiled by the security forces.

The security forces, led by Assam Rifles and Police, have been able to limit the activities of the proscribed group in the border districts of Tirap and Longding immensely, which has driven the anti national elements to a point of desperation. Since, their subversive and extortion activities have been severely curtailed in the region, they have been trying to target the vulnerable sections of the society and mislead them by selling narcotic based substances in a bid to fuel the narco-terror nexus. All their attempts to do so however, have been foiled by the Assam Rifles.

CEO visits Ziro to oversee preliminary poll preparedness

ZIRO, October 22:

The Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) Pawan Kr.Sain along with Joint Chief Electoral officer Liken Koyu visited Ziro to review the First Level Checking (FLC) of Electronic Voting Machines on October 22.

The state election officers took a review meeting with Lower Subansiri Deputy Commissioner Bamin Nime, Electoral Registration Officer-cum-EAC Tame Yajum and Assistant Electoral Registration Officer-cum-circle officer Amina Nabam at the District Secretariat.

In course of the meeting, the Chief Electoral Officer Pawan Kr.Sain suggested several measures to ensure a smooth and seamless election at the District. Among others the CEO suggested appointment of sufficient supervisors at polling stations, rationalization of polling stations, contingency plans for rescue and evacuation, avoidable polling dates and expenditure management. The CEO further advised to have regular meetings with the political parties to root out any lacunae in the election process.

The CEO and the joint CEO accompanied by DC and the District Electoral officers also visited the venue of the FLC and the strong room of the EVM's and VVPAT's and the CEO suggested necessary instructions for their safe keeping.

Earlier during the day, first level checking of EVM's and VVPAT's was successfully conducted along with mock exercises at the District Secretariat attended by representatives from various political parties of INC, BJP, PPA, NPP and AAP. FLC observer and Election Commission of India officer Shivam Arora supervised the entire FLC process.

Governor interacts with security forces at the border post

Instil 'Zero Notice' reaction time: Governor to troops

TUTING, October 26:

The Governor of Arunachal Pradesh Lt. General KT Parnaik, PVSM, UYSM, YSM (Retd.) interacted with the officers and personnel of Indian armed forces stationed near Line of Actual Control at Tuting in Upper Siang District on October 20, 2023.

The Governor exhorted the troops to be alert, vigilant and mentally and physically fit. He said that the international border of Arunachal Pradesh is sensitive and a very important sector in context to national security.

The Governor exhorted the officers and soldiers to prepare themselves in the proud traditions of the Indian Army to uphold the values and principles of the Indian armed forces.

The Governor, while sharing his experience in the sector, advised the security personnel to instil 'Zero Notice' reaction time and be watchful. He also shared finer points of border management and future warfare.

The Governor emphasized the importance of the armed forces fostering positive relationships with the civilian population. He called for reinforcing goodwill for mutual trust and understanding between the military and civilians, while highlighting the vital role the armed forces play in maintaining public safety and security in the border area.

Local MLA and Minister for Health and Family Welfare Alo Li-bang and Director General of Police Anand Mohan were present during the interaction.

Large numbers of security personnel from Infantry Battalions, including Maratha Regiment, Gorkha Regiment, Dogra Regiment, Army Supply Corps, Engineers and Artillery Brigade along with Indo Tibetan Border Police were present on the occasion.

2nd Edition of Ziro Private School Festival held

Quality education mantra for Ziro to be reckoned as an educational hub: DC

ZIRO, October 26:

Fulfilling the aspirations of both the students and parents by providing wholesome quality education is the key to transform Ziro into an educational hub, said Lower Subansiri Deputy Commissioner Bamin Nime at Hey Paka Futsal ground on Saturday, October 21 last.

Giving away the prizes of the second edition of the four-day Ziro Private Schools Festival, the DC urged the principals of the 26 private schools of the valley to provide quality education in terms of both academic and moral education. I am told more than 7000 students were enrolled at the private schools of Ziro last year and it is the duty of the schools to not disappoint the students and parents who have chosen Ziro to shape the careers of their children, the DC said.

While cautioning against any sort of ragging or physical abuse at the schools, the DC advised the students to develop strong moral character by respecting their parents, teachers and elders. Students are the pillars of a nation and no nation can be strong without moral values and ethos in our students, the DC said.

The DC further said with good roads, air connectivity, pleasant mild weather and the welcoming attitude of Apatani people, Ziro is poised to be an 'educational hub' of the state.

The President of Arunachal Pradesh Private School and Children Welfare Association, Ziro Unit, Taru Abin said the Ziro Private Schools Festival is a platform for thousands of students studying at Ziro to showcase their latent talents. Different students have different hidden talents in literary, sports or culture. We have tried to create a platform where there is healthy competition among the students of different schools which motivates not only the competing students but also inspires the younger students to perform well in the coming years and bring laurels for themselves and the schools, Abin explained.

Abin further informed that the participants to the competitions were divided into three groups comprising primary, junior and senior categories. The four-day festival witnessed intense competitions in the fields of sports, literary and cultural by 2500 participating students from 22 schools of the valley, informed Abin.

Likha Disum of Midland Education Centre, Ziro was declared as 'Student of the Year' while Kids Quest School won the 'School of the Year' award for the second consecutive year in a row.

Among others, the closing ceremony was also attended by Colonel Archana Sood, Commander 756 BRTF Pinegrove, Dr. Sidharth Shukla, Vice Chancellor of Indira Gandhi Technical and Medical Science University, Shailendra Singh, Commandant ITBP, DSP Ojing Lego, DIPRO Gyati Kacho and former Minister Padi Richo.
