The team also created awareness about the SUP grievance redressal application launched by Central Pollution Control Board, wherein complaints can be raised by citizens related to sale and use of banned plastic items.

CM lays foundations for A State-of-the-Art District Secretariat & other projects

PALIN, February 1:

Chief Minister Pema Khandu on Monday, January 30 last laid the foundations for a state-of-the-art district secretariat and various other projects being executed by PWD, RWD, Power department, PHE&WS and UD & Housing at Palin, district headquarters of Kra-Daadi.

He appreciated the layout plan of the new extension of the district headquarters prepared by the department of UD & Housing, which will be located 5 Kms away from the present township and spread over an area of 1.27 Sq Kms.

Speaking at a public meeting at Palin, Khandu assured enough funds for execution of all the projects in a time bound manner. He insisted that quality of work shouldn't be compromised at any cost.

"I assure you accelerated development but for any development to take place there should be a conducive atmosphere. A conducive atmosphere can be created only with the cooperation of the people," he said while appealing for public support and cooperation with the executing agencies and the district administration.

Delving on developmental works ushered by his government with support of the central government, Khandu said that the main hurdle – road connectivity – has been mostly resolved in the districts of Kra-Daadi and KurungKumey. He expressed satisfaction over the progress of the trans-Arunachal highway stretch connecting both the districts to rest of the state.

"The difference is being experienced. When earlier it used to take up to 8 hours to reach Itanagar from Palin, today it is a matter of about 4 to 5 hours," he observed.

Golden Jubilee Reh celebrated at Koronu

Mein lauds Idu Mishmi community for preserving their cultural heritage

KORONU, February 2:

Deputy Chief Minister Chowna Mein lauded the Idu Mishmi community for holding on to the cultural heritage and encouraging the young children, youths and seniors to participate in the festivals.

Mein was addressing the Golden Jubilee Reh celebration by the Idu Mishmis of Koronu village in Lower Dibang Valley district on Wednesday, February 1 last.

He said that people of the state are living in perfect harmony despite cultural diversities, adding that to further strengthen the approach towards preserving the state's ancient heritage, he also proposed to create a mythological heritage centre in Bhismaknagar, develop Mayudia as a major tourism centre and introduce separate handloom centres.

Citing the beautiful handloom and handicraft culture of the Mishmi tribes, the DCM emphasized on the importance of GI tagging of handlooms and handicrafts products of various tribes of the state in order to preserve cultural artifacts.

Stating that several initiatives have been taken at the state level to reinforce the cultural identities of various tribes and communities of the state, he said, "The initiatives include empowering the indigenous priests of Arunachal Pradesh by paying them honorariums for their service, establishing Gurukuls for imparting traditional value systems adhering to the various tribes of the area, setting up indigenous prayer halls dedicated to the indigenous faiths of the people in every district".

Earlier, the DCM hoisted the festival flag and paid homage to the founding father of community Reh festival, late Naba Ita Pulu.

Mein also released a folksong album produced by IMCLS.

The festival featured a play on environment and wildlife preservation, which was appreciated by all. During the festival, local community offered prayer to 'Nanyi Intaya and Mashelo Zinu' for nature's blessings and for sustaining the village life.

MLAs Ninong Ering, Gum Tayeng, Dasanglu Pul and Mutchu Mithi, former chief minister Mukut Mithi, former MLA Laeta Umbrey, among others attended the festival.

Felix reviews projects in Nyapin and Kurung Kumey

NYAPIN, February 2:

Considering the importance of developmental projects for the people of 19-Nyapin Assembly Constituency and Kurung Kumey district as a whole, local MLA-cum-Home Minister Bamang Felix recently undertook a whirlwind tour of the constituency to review the progress of various such developmental projects.

A slew of projects, ranging from connectivity to accommodation for administrative service officers, are being undertaken in Nyapin to help usher in modernity and ease of living in the district.

In Nyobia Circle, Minister Felix inspected the construction of PMGSY road from Nibi to Hiba village, being executed by the Rural Works Division, Sangram. The said road is a valuable asset for the people of KurungKumey district as it connects the two constituencies of the district viz., 19-Nyapin and 21-Koloriang AC while also significantly reducing the travel time in between.

Meeting held for Lumla bye-poll

TAWANG, February 2:

Lumla Bye-election Returning Officer R D Thungon has asked the nodal officers (NOs) to get ready for the smooth conduct of the Bye-election.

Convening a meeting with all the NOs here in Tawang district on Wednesday, February 1, RO Thungon said 'with collective responsibility we shall conduct election successfully in a free and fair manner.'

He informed that services from employees of Tawang and Mogto constituencies will be requisitioned for election process.

He said that three all-women polling stations have been proposed and polling officials will be detailed after randomization.

55th Reh festival celebrated at Dibang Valley

CM emphasizes on preservation and practice of indigenous culture

ANINI, February 2:

State Chief Minister Pema Khandu said that the Idu Mishmi have a much rich culture, which is more colourful and artistic than many cultures of the world. "The intrinsic embroidery of Idu Mishmi costumes is incomparable. This wonderful tradition must continue," he said, while addressing the 55th Reh festival celebration here in Dibang Valley district on Wednesday, February 1 last.

The Chief Minister reiterated his emphasis on preservation and practice of indigenous culture, speaking in mother tongue so that they do not disappear under the influence of other major languages.

He lauded the Idu Mishmi elders and community members for leading from the front by introducing teaching of Mishmi language in schools.

Remembering his last visit to the picturesque headquarters of Dibang Valley in 2020, wherein he was joined by critically acclaimed Bollywood actor Nawazuddin Siddiqui, Khandu said that the natural beauty of the district has created a buzz in film world. "Dibang Valley is nature's gift to mankind. Once the stretch of about 20 kms on the Roing-Anini road is complete, not only the travel time will reduce but also offer smooth and scenic commute all round the year," he said.

Khandu was optimistic that in a couple more years from now, Dibang Valley will become the most sought after tourist destination of the state especially, for nature lovers and adventure seekers.

"The state government is aware of it and we will ensure filling of any infrastructural gap to encourage tourism here," he said.

He lauded the young entrepreneurs, social media influencers and local legislator Mopi Mihu for working and exposing the tourism potential of the district. He, however, advised them to aim for high-end tourism with focus on more revenue – less volume.

"I have been emphasizing on high-end tourism so that our state is not overcrowded with tourists that may affect our environment and biodiversity. We need tourism to flourish but not at the cost of our environment," Khandu said.

Earlier in the day, the Chief Minister inaugurated 22 projects and laid foundation for four projects at Anini.

During his three-day tour of the district, Khandu was accompanied by MLAs Zingnu Namchoom, Nyamar Karbak, Kento Jini, Hayeng Mangfi and Phurpa Tsering.

CM visits Kra- Daadi district; Assures unconnected villages to connect by road

GANGTE, February 2:

"We are lucky to get a Prime Minister like Narendra Modi. His attachment with the North East and particularly Arunachal Pradesh has ushered in unprecedented development in the last eight years, said Chief Minister Pema Khandu speaking at a public meeting at Gangte in Kra-Daadi district on Tuesday, January 31.

He pointed that until a couple of years ago, Gangte circle headquarter was unconnected by road.

"It was only after Balo Raja became the local legislator of the area and with the blessings of the Prime Minister, we could today reach Gangte travelling by road," he said.

Khandu assured that all unconnected villages will be connected by road under PMGSY and wherever it is not feasible, roads will be constructed under the state government's Chief Minister's Comprehensive Road Network program.

Visiting the Gangte view point overlooking Tali circle and the confluence of Kurung and Kumey rivers, the Chief Minister observed that it could be developed into a tourist attraction point. He assured that he will take the matter on priority and urged the local MLA to hire a competent and reputed consultant to design and plan the project.

ject. He said, depending only on departmental officials will not suffice.

Referring to the dilapidated and old Pha bridge that connects Gangte circle with Kamle district, Khandu assured funds for construction of a permanent RCC bridge in its place.

He expressed concern over the old and worn out quarters and buildings of the Govt Middle School of Gangte and promised that within next month funds will be sanctioned for creation of new infrastructure.

Earlier in the day, Khandu inaugurated Rai Balo Model village developed under the Chief Minister Adarsh Gram Yojana. He also inaugurated the Circle Office and government quarter besides laying the foundation stone for an inspection bungalow.

Home Minister Bamang Felix, MLAs BaloRaja, JikkeTako, Chow ZingnuNamchoom, and PhurpaTseringand district administration officials accompanied the Chief Minister.

Mandarin ducks found nestling at Ziro again

ZIRO, February 2:

A flock of magnificent mandarin ducks were again sighted on Friday, January 25 last at the famed Siikhey Lake here.

The topic was the talking point during the monthly Ziro Bird Walk organized by Arunachal Pradesh Birding Club Ziro today and attended by Lower Subansiri Deputy Commissioner Bamin Nime along with other avid bird watchers from RGU led by professor Daniel Mize, members from Wild Life Conservation Society Bangalore, Ziro Birding Club and Ngunu Ziro.

Mandarin Ducks were first recorded during Ziro Bird Walk in February 2021. Second record was in March 2022 and the third in January 2023.

Unlike the previous single visitor, this year in January three mandarin ducks comprising two females and one male visited Ziro valley. According to avid bird watcher and renowned tour operator Koj Mama,

World Cancer Day

World Cancer Day is a yearly observance held on February 4th to raise cancer awareness and support cancer prevention, diagnosis, and treatment. The Union for International Cancer Control (UICC) organises World Cancer Day to support the 2008 World Cancer Declaration's goals. The major purpose of World Cancer Day is to drastically reduce cancer related illness and mortality, as well as to unite the global community to eliminate the injustice of cancer-related suffering. The United Nations commemorates the day. World Cancer Day aims to dispel myths, boost awareness, and reduce stigma surrounding cancer. On World Cancer Day, a number of actions are held to express support for cancer patients.

World Cancer Day is coordinated by the International Union Against Cancer (UICC), an organisation dedicated to raising global cancer awareness, with cooperation from WHO and other international organisations. The UICC's World Cancer Campaign, which runs throughout the year and aims to raise cancer awareness by establishing alliances with health and cancer institutions, proposing educational activities, and generating public service announcements, uses World Cancer Day as a formal launch pad for the announcement of new themes as well as the release of new publications.

Numerous healthcare organisations and cancer centres make educational publications and resources regarding cancer and cancer prevention available on their websites in honour of World Cancer Day. World Cancer Day is commemorated in some regions with a parade or a regional fundraising event, as in a walk, a banquet, a concert, or even an auction. In addition, throughout the week of World Cancer Day, some countries broadcast special television or radio programmes concerning cancer.

On February 4th, 2000, at the World Cancer Summit on Cancer for the New Millennium in Paris, World Cancer Day was founded. On 4th February 2000, the then General Director of UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation), Kichir Matsuura, and then French President Jacques Chirac signed the Charter of Paris Against Cancer in Paris, which was meant to promote research, prevent cancer, and improve patient services. It also included an article instituting the anniversary of the article's official signing as World Cancer Day.

World Cancer Day as well as the World Cancer Campaign have turned out to be major tools for raising attention to cancer treatment and prevention in economically developing nations, where more than 70% of cancer fatalities occur. For example, World Cancer Day 2007 marked the start of an international effort to strengthen cancer-care resources in Nicaragua, where availability of cancer treatment facilities was severely limited.

CM lays foundations for A State-of-the-Art District Secretariat...

He blamed the lack of road connectivity and other basic facilities in the villages of the district in the past that resulted in migration of rural folks to places like Ziro and Itanagar.

"Things are changing rapidly. I am happy to note that people settled in the capital have started building homes in their native places and I am sure reverse migration is on the rise," he said.

He asserted that the state government's priority is to uplift the rural economy. For which, he said, the government is promoting and handholding SHGs through the Rural Livelihood Mission.

"If villages are developed, constituency will develop. If constituency develops, district will develop. Then the state will develop and country will develop," he said.

Khandu requested departmental heads and officers to dovetail state and central government schemes at the planning stage itself so that villages are developed in a holistic manner.

The Chief Minister handed over a sanction order worth Rs 8 crore to the deputy commissioner to mitigate the material damages caused by a cloudburst in Yangte, Tali and Pipsorang circles on September 28, 2022.

He also handed over a cheque worth Rs 2,47,42,800 as loan to 123 Self-Help Groups (SHGs) of district. He appreciated the bank-reach-out campaign by SBI and Arunachal State Rural Livelihoods Mission (ArSRLM) for loan support during their mega credit camp organized alongside the public meeting.

Further, Khandu flagged off an ambulance donated by NEEPCO for district hospital, Palin.

At Chambang, the Chief Minister and his entourage traveled to Chambang from Palin in the afternoon, where he laid the foundation stone for an Inspection Bungalow.

Attending a public meeting here, Khandu made several announcements, which include upgradation of the circle (established in 1982) to SDO/ADC administration, police outpost and a Power sub-division.

Fulfilling one of his earlier assurances, he handed over the approval order copy to the district administration for establishment of a RWD sub-division at Chambang.

Observing that the road connecting Palin and Chambang as narrow for safe travel, Khandu assured to keep provisions in the upcoming state budget for its widening and realignment.

Incidentally, Khandu becomes the third chief minister to reach Chambang after GegongApang and late DorjeeKhandu.

The chief minister's entourage included Home Minister Bamang Felix, MLAs Balo Raja, JikkeTako, Chow ZignuNamchoom, PhurpaTsering and others.

Felix reviews projects in Nyapin...

Speaking with the RWD executive engineers and local contractors, the Minister directed that the road be completed within the stipulated time while also ensuring it remains block-ade free at all time.

On the sideline of the visit, the Minister also visited the Satang Sinik (Lake), about 2.5km from Nibi Village. Once a natural lake, the Satang Sinik holds the tale of a legendary folklore figure Taram Gamin. Minister Felix have advised the villagers to keep the surroundings plastic free and to conserve the ecology in the area. Stating that the lake can be rejuvenated and be promoted as tourist destination, the Minister appealed to the villagers to cooperate with the administration in its conservation efforts.

In Sangram Sub-Division, the Minister inspected the construction of BRTF road to Layang under CRIF, construction of police station and barrack at Layang, and fire services building site at Pokriang.

He also visited the construction sites of four bridges viz., Patrey, Yachi, Paya, and Pani bridge which are being executed under RIDF by PWD Sangram Division. All four bridges are completed and will be formally inaugurated shortly.

In NyapinADC Headquarters, the Minister inaugurated the water treatment plant for augmentation of drinking water supply to the Nyapin township under Jal Jeevan Mission covering 129 households in Police Colony, Hojuriang, Passa, and Army Colony at Nyapin. The project was implemented by the PHED&WS Sangram Division.

He also inspected the construction of New Helipad in Nyapin, 36-room capacity Circuit House with conference and dining hall, Tadar Tang Community Health Centre, Mini Secretariat, and construction of fire services building. All mentioned project are being expedited and is expected to be completed within this year's end.

At Phassang Circle, where the Home Minister attended at the 74th Republic Day celebrations, inaugurated the multipurpose tribal welfare building (NyokumNamlo) at Lungsa which was executed by BDO, Nyapin. During his visit, he also inspected the construction of circuit house, helipad, indoor badminton stadium, PMGSY roads, 2-lane road from Nyobia Circle via Sangram, Nyapin and Phassang Circles to Chayang Tajo in East Kameng district, PHED&WS Section Office and quarters, etc.

The Minister has directed the officials concerned to expedite the work while ensuring that the infrastructures remain an asset not just for the current population but also for the future generations.

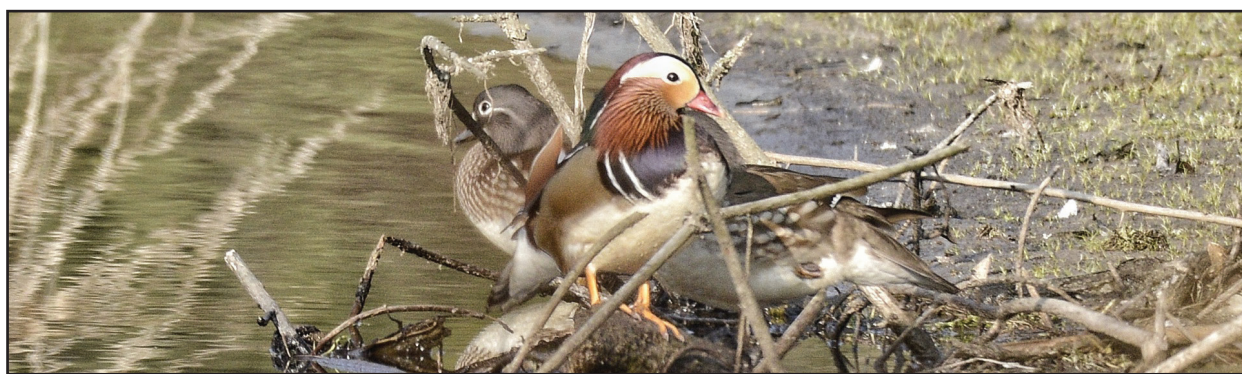

Meanwhile, during his tour, the Minister also interacted with the public, panchayat leaders and government officials. During interaction with the panchayat leaders and rural masses, Minister Felix called for extending cooperation to the district administration in executing developmental projects and welfare schemes.

He also advised the panchayat leaders to utilize the funds allocated to them under the State Own Revenue to create valuable assets for the rural masses while asserting that the state government is committed to make rural Arunachal self-reliant.

Mandarin ducks found nestling...

the factor could be because of the Air Gun Surrender Abhiyan. Mama further informed that with the launching of Ziro Bird Walk in 2019 by involving community participation to protect birds and restrict hunting activities, the number of migratory birds visiting the valley have increased many folds. The Ziro Bird Walk is organized every month at Ziro Valley.

The mandarin ducks were first reported from Maguri beel in Assam and Dirang in West Kameng District.

DC visits drugs de-addiction center

PASIGHAT, February 2: Deputy Commissioner Tayi Taggu accompanied by DMO Dr. Radesh Tatan and WASE President Yamik Dulong Darang visited the Drugs De-addiction cum Rehabilitation Center located at Jarkong village, Pasighat, interacted with the inmates and inquired about their health and reviewed overall functioning of the center including issues and needs here on Monday, January 30.

Sharing his views, the DC stated that existing studies have found that drugs addiction makes a person hollow from inside and causes huge loss of money, prestige and valuable time. The Pasighat de-addiction cum rehabilitation center has been proving to be a boon for the addicted persons so that they could return home after taking appropriate medical care and guidance here.

Taggu appreciated the medical officers, nurses and other staff members for their dedicated services stating that rehabilitation aspect must be ensured in the right earnest. He directed the authorities to ensure cleanliness in the de-addiction center to keep the environment healthy for all and stressed on discipline, healthy food, counseling and yoga on regular basis in particular for healthy body and mind.

Continued use of drugs might be a result of insecurities, destructive and cause of depression, anxiety etc and finally social non-acceptance leading to negative consequences, opined the DC and in order to eradicate this evil, he made fervent appeal to the government functionaries and NGOs to sensitize the society about the harmful effects of drugs abuse through massive awareness by delivering information through interactive methods and cultural sensitivity.

He also urged the people to avoid scare tactics but to find out ways and extend help as friends for them who have fallen into the trap of drugs, for any reason.

DMO Dr Radesh Tatan advised the inmates to strongly resolve to kick the habit of drug addiction with strong determination and commitment. They should properly take medical treatment administered at the centre and make themselves free from the clutches of drug abuse.

Tatan informed the visiting DC that altogether ten addicted person from East Siang and neighboring districts were admitted at present and all were provided required facilities and guidance.

He also briefed about the ongoing construction works of the thirty bedded new building, volleyball and badminton courts and internal roads etc under Smart City project which are expected to be completed at the end of June, this year.

Black soldier fly can bring two-way benefits to farmers

Dr. Arup Kumar Sarma
Senior Scientist (Entomology), Assam Agricultural University,
Jorhat-13, Assam
Email: arup.sarma@aau.ac.in Black soldier fly (BSF), Hermetia illucens L. is neither a pest nor a vector and does not cause any nuisance to us nor damage our crops. It plays an important role as a decomposer of organic substrates and helps returning the nutrients to the soil. It is a good source of protein and thus can be a viable alternative to the expensive fish-meals. This fly can be reared and produced in mass scale on the decaying food, wastes generated in agricultural environment, slaughter house, restaurant and even municipality green-wastes. Its rearing on organic-wastes reduces the foul odour emitting from the wastes due to quicker conversion of biomass and thus, minimizes the breeding of housefly and other insect vectors and thus reduces the load of pathogenic microflora in the environment. The compost produced by BSF on kitchen waste is superior to farm yard manure, vermicompost and sheep manures, because of its high amount of nitrogen, phosphorous, potash and micronutrients. Moreover, the bio-conversion takes place in a shorter period of 60 days. The mass rearing of BSF is a cleaner and greener alternative to recycle organic wastes by producing nutrient rich compost. BSF compost is good for crop nutrition and establishment of nursery plants.

Many species of fishes use to prey on adult insects and immature stages of aquatic insects in the natural water ecosystem. Indigenous fish species of North East India are good hunter insects; they jump and prey on the insects that come near to water surface. Insects are good sources of essential nutrients like protein, vitamins and minerals and have a great potentiality as feed for fishes. The conversion rate of feed into biomass is higher than many other feed sources. Insects grow on green bio-wastes and reproduce rapidly, and can be reared easily on such bio-wastes. Thus, insects can be successfully incorporated in fish diets as a substitute for fishmeal. An average replacement of 20-30% and feasibility of even total substitution is possible for some species. The conventional feeds are becoming expensive with the time because of their shrinking sources as compared to rising demand. Therefore, there is a tremendous scope of rearing insects as feed of fish; one of such insect species is Black soldier fly.

The life cycle of BSF is of 23- 25 days depending upon the substrate of the rearing culture and prevailing weather conditions. Adults feed on the nectar of flowers whereas the larvae feed on decaying matter. BSF can be mass multiplied in bins containing decaying organic wastes such as crop wastes, food wastes, slaughter house wastes etc. The decaying odour of the rearing substrate attracts the adult fly for laying eggs.

One adult lay about 200-300 creamy white eggs in decaying matter and the eggs hatch in 2-7 days. The larvae start feeding upon the decaying organic matter and pass rapidly through six larval stages. On attaining maturity the larvae crawl out of the substrate and pupate in soil/dry substrate to emerge as an adult in 4-5 days. The mature pre-pupae are rich source of protein.

Many institutes such as ICAR-NBAIR, Bengaluru have developed low-cost protocol for rearing this fly alongwith the scientific designing of equipment/structure for rearing BSF and waste degradation. The pre-pupae of BSF are the primary output of the solid waste conversion (20kg prepupa/100 kg solid waste), which can be used as a valuable nutrient additive in poultry feed and fish meal. Its pre-pupa contains of about 32% protein, 22% lipid and 21% ash on dry weight basis. The fly can easily be mass produced at farm level to produce the protein rich feed for the fishes. The production and commercialization of such a potential feed will not only minimize the overexploitation for fishmeal but also prevent the hike of market price of fish-meal. Entrepreneurs, fish-farmers, rural youths and rural women of north-eastern India must look for production of fish-feed through rearing of black soldier fly in order to boost the rural economy of the region.

APEDA conducts training on energy efficient solar water pumps

PASIGHAT, Jan 29:

As per initiative of the Bureau of Energy Efficiency and Ministry of Power, GoI, one day training on Energy Efficient Pumps under Agriculture Demand Side Management Programme-2023 was organized by the East Siang APEDA at the Pasighat Siang Guest House conference hall on Friday, January 27.

APEDA Project Officer Er Kape Badak stressed on use of latest technology agriculture purpose like energy efficient star rated motors so that they could save energy and resources.

Agriculture sector was heavily dependent on water pumps to draw surface or ground water out for irrigation. They use electricity or fuel run Gen-Set that causes huge economic stress and therefore for effective and economic irrigation management, farmers should adopt modern technology like Solar Water Pumping system.

APEDA has already installed such pumping sets at different locations successfully under PM-KUSUM Scheme in the district. It is an application of photovoltaic technology which converts solar energy into required electricity to run the pumping system. Such modern technology increases crop yield by ensuring a reliable and perennial supply of water to cultivating fields and save money, asserted Badak.

He urged the participants to avail optimum benefits of the training and gain appropriate and purposeful knowledge during the daylong training programme and spread awareness among the farming community.

The training was attended by the officials of allied department and some progressive farmers of the East Siang district. General Manager of CENERGIST Energy Pvt. Ltd Kolkata, Nilanjan Bose imparted the training as resource person.

RGU observes Martyrs Day

RONO HILLS, February 2:

Rajiv Gandhi University (RGU) observed Martyrs Day – the death anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi – here on Monday, January 30 and paid homage to the martyrs of the freedom struggle.

During the programme, which was organised by the International Centre for Gandhian and Peace Studies (ICGPS) of RGU's history department, RGU Vice Chancellor Prof Saket Kushwaha in a message paid homage to the martyrs of the nation, and said that, "as India is celebrating the Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav, it is natural that our thoughts should turn towards the brave souls who sacrificed all their happiness, comfort and safety for the attainment of independence." ICGPS coordinator Prof SN Sing said that "Mahatma Gandhi was not just a person and a leader but also an idea in the true sense of the term, which represents India. It had inspired the freedom fighters then, and will continue to inspire generations to come, not only in India but across the globe." History HoD Prof Ashan Riddi highlighted the role of the people of Arunachal "in anti-British struggles" and said that "their role was at par with the people from the mainland."

VC (i/c) Prof PK Panigrahi, Registrar Dr NT Rikam, and Prof PK Nayak also spoke.

MLA inaugurates Sub Treasury Office at Kanubari

KANUBARI, February 2:

In a hugely relieving news for the entire populace of Kanubari, MLA Gabriel Denwang Wangsu on Monday, January 30 inaugurated the long felt Sub Treasury Office at Kanubari in presence of host of dignitaries including - ADC T. Aran, HoDs, ZPMs, Chiefs, GBs and general public.

Addressing on the occasion, the MLA, while congratulating the people of his constituency for the achievement, stated that fulfilling such genuine demands of the public motivates him to work harder.

"With the opening of treasury office here, besides many benefits like quick disbursement of salaries, avoidable expenses in going to district Hq Longding for things as trivial as getting treasury challan and non-judicial stamps will be reduced, further saving time and energy", he said.

He informed the gathering that establishing Sub Treasury office was not without its share of challenges as there were certain criterias and government norms to fulfill. Creation of adequate HoDs with DD power was one amongst many such requirements with sufficient bank transactions. He expressed his gratitude and thanks to State Chief Minister Pema Khandu for realizing the dreams of the people by sanctioning Sub Treasury office and Block Development Office at Kanubari.

MLA Wangsu further informed to the enthusiastic gathering that he is making an all out effort to develop the health sector by posting sufficient specialist doctors for which adequate infrastructure development is going on in full swing befitting the requirements like G+2 quarters and hospital.

On the occasion, he appealed the GBs and Panchayat leaders present to encourage the people under their jurisdiction to register under Chief Minister's Arogya Arunachal Yojna (CMAAY) to get health insurance coverage in empanelled hospital.

"Seeing the lethargic attitude of our people in registering themselves under CMAAY, I have personally instructed our party workers to come forward and help in availing CMAAY scheme", he said.

He also distributed 368 CMAAY cards on the spot.

In response to the demand made by Nokkai Wangsa, Head GB of Dahsatong village for establishment of Fishery Office, the MLA informed that all necessary works in that regard has been done and it will be realized soon.

Earlier, ZPM Panjam Wangsa in his brief speech appreciated MLA Wangsu for realizing the long felt need of the people by inaugurating the Sub Treasury Office and said that it will help boost up the economy of the people at large.

Anya Yowa, CO-cum-BDO incharge highlighted the benefits of Sub Treasury office to the people.

Borang inaugurates Greenland Driving School

PASIGHAT, February 2:

"Lack of knowledge of road safety and its violation were some of the major causes of accidents", said ADC Tatdo Borang while inaugurating the Greenland Driving School near Raneghat on Tuesday, January 31 in presence of East Siang AAPPTF President Tabiram Moyong and others.

The ADC while speaking on the occasion said, it was essential and an attempt by Mongam Rallen to improve the culture of road safety in densely populated Pasighat Township. We have witnessed many road accidents leading to injuries and deaths the ADC added.

According to surveys, it was saddening to know that road accidents have taken more lives than dreaded diseases in India. Only the family who faces road fatalities could understand the pain of untimely deaths of near and dear ones, Borang stated.

Borang underlined the fact that road safety could be achieved only through the coordinated efforts of the government, society and other stakeholders. He urged the school authority to recruit good trainers for driving training purposes adding that there must be orientation classes followed by hands on practical lessons by expert trainers including communication skill, ethics and professionalism on making every student a responsible and safe driver.

He expressed hope that the training institute would produce good drivers and road accidents would substantially lower down and said that the establishment of this driving training institute in Pasighat marks yet another step towards transforming citizens into responsible drivers and riders.

East Siang AAPPTF President Tabiram Moyong threw lights on Traffic management, rules and discipline, safe and correct driving concepts, manners and responsibilities of a driver and all aspects of practical driving on roads.

He stated that increasing population and rising traffic in urban areas has compromised on road safety, leading to increase in road accidents. The steady rise in the number of road mishaps in the city was an issue that needs to be addressed promptly.

Moyong expressed hope that the Greenland Driving School would take responsibility of educating our citizens on achieving the ultimate safety mission of zero accidents.
